

Dear Stan:

On behalf of the President, I would like to thank you for your April 14 letter, in which you and your colleagues set forth your concern regarding the influx of refugees into Pakistan as a result of the Soviet invasion of Afghanistan. In your letter you also request that the President consider sending a high-level mission to the refugee camps in Pakistan, highlighting the foreign policy objectives for this recommended action.

The views you have expressed on this matter certainly warrant a close examination by the Administration, and that is why I have taken the liberty of sharing your correspondence with the President's foreign policy advisors. I am sure that your comments and suggestions will be given every consideration and that a substantive reply will be reaching you shortly with respect to the serious political, economic, and foreign policy questions you have raised.

Thank you again for writing and sharing with us your assessment of this grave situation.

With cordial regard, I am

Sincerely,

Max L. Friederesdorf
